

Dec. 7/20

To Our Valued Clients,

While there are currently no restrictions in place that prohibit travel within the province, Dr. Piotr Oglaza, Medical Officer of Health at Hastings-Prince Edward Public Health, is asking everyone to reconsider or postpone any non-essential travel. This is especially important for travel to and from areas with high rates of COVID-19 that are referred to as the red and grey zones.

It is the expectation of our local health unit that these requests will be followed in good faith, and that individuals will make responsible choices that respect the health and well-being of all Ontarians and as such Career Edge respectfully asks that if you have travelled to a red or grey zone that you refrain from visiting our office until you are no longer considered a risk to our members.

Thank you for your understanding.

The staff of Career Edge.

Dec. 7/20

To Our Valued Clients,

While there are currently no restrictions in place that prohibit travel within the province, Dr. Piotr Oglaza, Medical Officer of Health at Hastings-Prince Edward Public Health, is asking everyone to reconsider or postpone any non-essential travel. This is especially important for travel to and from areas with high rates of COVID-19 that are referred to as the red and grey zones.

It is the expectation of our local health unit that these requests will be followed in good faith, and that individuals will make responsible choices that respect the health and well-being of all Ontarians and as such Hastings Housing Resource Centre respectfully asks that if you have travelled to a red or grey zone that you refrain from visiting our office until you are no longer considered a risk to our members.

Thank you for your understanding.

The staff of Hastings Housing Resource Centre.

HASTINGS
HOUSING
RESOURCE CENTRE

Dec. 7/20

To Our Valued Clients,

While there are currently no restrictions in place that prohibit travel within the province, Dr. Piotr Oglaza, Medical Officer of Health at Hastings-Prince Edward Public Health, is asking everyone to reconsider or postpone any non-essential travel. This is especially important for travel to and from areas with high rates of COVID-19 that are referred to as the red and grey zones.

It is the expectation of our local health unit that these requests will be followed in good faith, and that individuals will make responsible choices that respect the health and well-being of all Ontarians and as such Youthab respectfully asks that if you have travelled to a red or grey zone that you refrain from visiting our office until you are no longer considered a risk to our members.

Thank you for your understanding.

The staff of Youthab Quinte Inc.